PROFILE

I studied art with Jeffery Camp RA from 1997 to 2000. After that I ran several life drawing classes around London. I maintained my artistic practice in my studio in Battersea in London from 1999 until 2007, working on several projects including painting, drawing, and sculpture. I moved into printmaking in 2007, where I succeeded in exhibiting alongside Lucian Freud and Frank Auerbach at the Royal Academy Summer Show.

Since moving to Marseille this year, I have been working on a sculptural project relating to movement, wind, water, and sound.
